This was partially offset by the increase in the net operating income of 9.5% to RM130.7 million (Q2 Sep 2023: RM119.4 million).

NOTES TO THE UNAUDITED CONDENSED INTERIM FINANCIAL STATEMENTS FOR THE FINANCIAL PERIOD ENDED 30 SEPTEMBER 2024

12. Current Year Prospects

Malaysia's Gross Domestic Product ("GDP") in the second quarter of 2024 grew by 5.9% (2Q 2023: 2.8%). The growth was supported mainly by stronger domestic demand, improving labour market conditions, inbound tourism activities, exports growth amid higher external demand and coupled with continued policy support from the government. Furthermore, the ongoing public and private investment driven by multi-year national development projects and realization of approved investment leading to more robust investment expenditure.

The growth momentum in the Malaysian economy is expected to achieve the upper range of the BNM's official target of 4.0% to 5.0% in 2024. The economic growth is underpinned by positive trade outlook and resilience domestic demand. Manufacturing sector is forecasted to contribute to further economic growth as foreign investment in the sector will begin production and export towards the end of the year. The domestic demand will continue to drive growth, supported by the continued recovery in the labour market and the realisation of multi-year investment projects implementation. In addition, the introduction of EPF Account 3, where members may withdraw to meet emergency needs, is anticipated to support domestic consumption.

Bank Negara Malaysia ("BNM")'s Monetary Policy Committee ("MPC") left Overnight Policy Rate ("OPR") unchanged at 3.00% for the eighth consecutive meetings since May 2023. MPC cited muted inflation of under 2.00% as one of the key reasons for the decision. Inflation outlook however depends on Malaysia government policy measures. Upside risk to inflation would depend on spillover effect from domestic policy measures on subsidies, price control as well as global commodity prices and financial market conditions.

With the country's economic development on track, the Bank remains steadfast in building sustainable portfolio with inclusive growth and focus on strengthening its business resilience. The Bank continues to maintain its business agenda with both Japanese and Non-Japanese clients while acknowledging the challenges ahead and continue to remain responsive to changing environment by adopting prudent approach in managing costs.
